Home

This is our landing page, it needs to convince visitors Roomies is worth a little bit of their attention.

- 1) our mantra, big and bold to set the mood
- 2) a quirky video demo of the app with animation and a hint about our philosophy
- 3) a sign up form that only requires an email address (random password is emailed to user) or a social network account
- 4) three major features offered by roomies described with an icon representing them and screenshots below

Corkboard

This is the dashboard for all logged in users which means it has to convey as much relevant information as possible.

- 1) the logged in user's avatar
- 2) a button to open the add task/expense modal panel
- 3) urgent tasks or expenses for today (or past due)
- 4) less urgent daily tasks & expenses as well as ones for the following two days which can be filtered and can also display other roomies' assignments
- 5) bird's eye view of the coming month's tasks & expenses, present-centric still and with filters

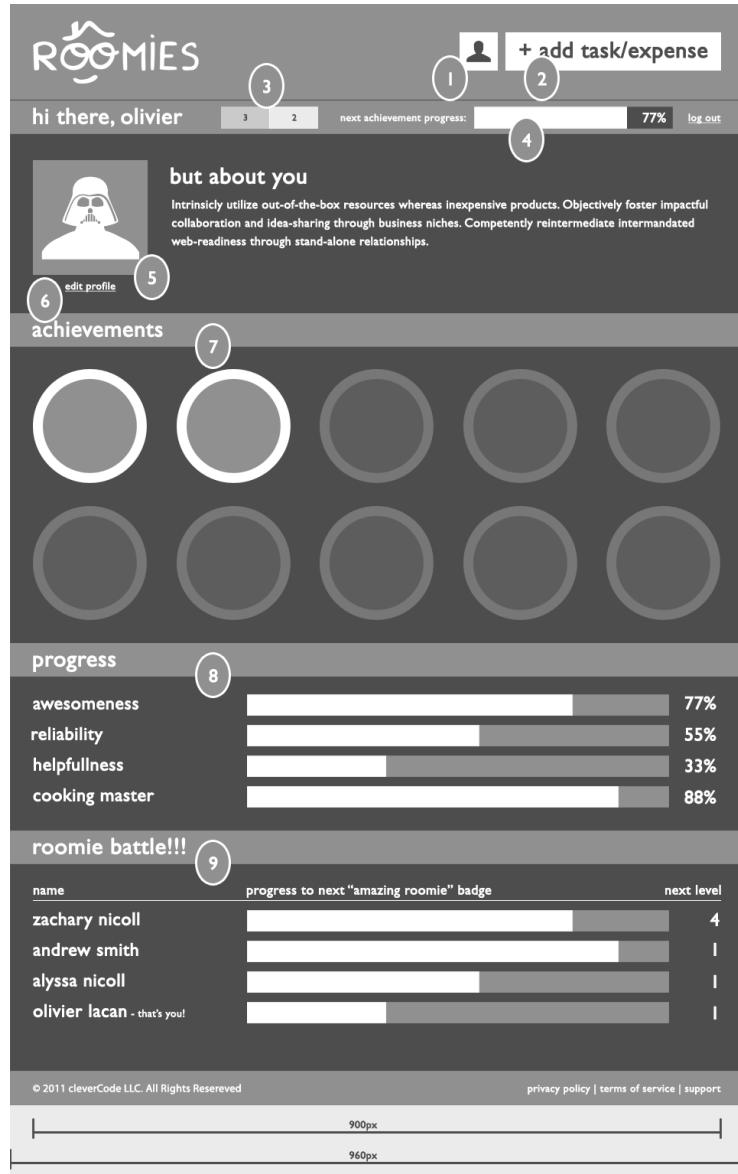

The screenshot shows the Roomies dashboard with the following components:

- Header: Roomies logo, user profile icon, and a "+ add task/expense" button with a counter (2).
- Urgent Tasks & Expenses: A section with a counter (3). It contains two boxes: "task title" and "expense title", both with placeholder text about utilizing out-of-the-box resources.
- My Upcoming Tasks & Expenses: A section with a counter (4). It is divided into three columns: "today", "tomorrow", and "march 24th". Each column lists specific tasks and expenses.
- This Month: A large section with a counter (5) showing a 4x7 grid of dates from 21 to 27. Each date cell contains a small icon representing the count of tasks or expenses for that day.
- Footer: Copyright notice (© 2011 cleverCode LLC. All Rights Reserved), privacy policy, terms of service, and support links. Below the footer, there are four horizontal dimension markers: 280px, 435px, 900px, and 960px.

Profile

This is the logged in user's profile. It shows information about their achievements, their progress to new ones, and compares them with their roomies. This is also where a user would go to become part of a new house.

- 1) the logged in user's avatar
- 2) a button to open the add task/expense modal panel
- 3) a quick look at how many tasks and expenses a user has assigned to them
- 4) the progress to the user's next amazing roomie badge which toggles between percentage and points
- 5) the logged in user's avatar, just bigger
- 6) a link to open the edit profile modal window
- 7) shows the badges a user has received and gives a preview of what the others look like
- 8) shows the user their progress on gaining shiny new achievement badges
- 9) compares the user with their roomies, showing who is in the lead as far as total points towards the amazing roomie badge

Task & Expense Modal

This is the task & expense modal. This is where the user will add, edit, and delete tasks or expenses.

The screenshot shows the Roomies mobile application interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with the 'ROOMIES' logo, a user profile icon, and an 'x close' button. Below the navigation, the main content area has a dark background with various sections: 'hi there, olivier' (with achievement counts 3 and 2), 'but about you' (with a placeholder image of Darth Vader), 'achievements' (a grid of six circular icons), 'progress' (bar charts for awesomeness, reliability, helpfulness, and cooking master), and 'roomie battle!!!' (a table comparing progress to next badge level for four roomies). A modal window is open on the right side, titled 'tasks' (which is currently selected) and 'expenses'. The 'tasks' tab is active, showing fields for 'description' (empty), 'category' (set to 'kitchen'), 'assignee(s)' (set to 'olivier'), 'due date' (set to 'march 30th'), 'recurring?' (checked), and 'frequency' (set to 'weekly'). A 'create task' button is at the bottom of the modal. The bottom of the screen shows a footer with copyright information ('© 2011 cleverCode LLC. All Rights Reserved') and links ('privacy policy | terms of service | support'). A horizontal dimension line at the bottom indicates a width of 435px.

Support

This is our support page. We want it to convey the same look and feel of the rest of the site, with a little apology thrown in.

- 1) reasons to send us a message
- 2) a contact form to send us a support request
- 3) a funny picture or video to entertain the user as our apology for their inconvenience
